Duties of the State Auditor

Duties of the State Auditor

Under various statutes and regulations of the state of Missouri, the State Auditor is responsible for auditing all state agencies, boards and commissions; the state court system; counties that do not elect a county auditor; and other political subdivisions, such as municipalities or school districts upon petition by the voters of those subdivisions. The Missouri State Auditor's Office (SAO) is the independent auditor for the citizens of the state. The SAO provides information about the operations of state and local governments to the public and government leaders. Our goal is to help improve the performance and accountability of state and local government by assessing fiscal and management controls, efficiency and effectiveness, and legal compliance. This information helps ensure the reliability of management and financial systems within the state. Our work is conducted in accordance with the applicable professional standards.

All audits are conducted in an impartial, nonpartisan manner, in accordance with government auditing standards issued by the United States Government Accountability Office. State auditors adhere to the rigorous standards of the auditing profession and exercise the highest levels of integrity and ethics. Audit findings and recommendations are based upon reliable evidence free from preconceived ideas and the influence of personal opinions.

We play a crucial role by providing useful information to decision makers and helping Missouri change for the better. We assist legislators as they research issues and make laws that affect the citizens of Missouri. We support state agencies and counties with our knowledge and skills as they solve problems, address audit findings, and plan strategies for their future success. We support state agencies, counties, and citizens in several ways:

- * Recommend cost-saving improvements to management.
- *Provide expertise on technological issues and support acquisition and implementation of effective technology systems.
- *Maximize the value of our audit work by using the most effective methods for managing strategy, operations, and people.

Our work helps state agencies and local governments understand emerging issues that are broad in scope and that cut across government entities. The SAO turns data and information into knowledge, which can then be used to make the best decisions for the citizens of Missouri

Audits

We perform various types of audits:

State Government Audits: The State Auditor conducts audits of state agencies and departments, boards and commissions, statewide elected officials, the legislature, the state's financial statements, and federal awards expended by the state.

Petition Audits: The State Auditor conducts audits of any political subdivision of the state, such as municipalities, school districts, water districts etc., upon petition by the voters of that political subdivision.

Performance Audits: The State Auditor conducts audits to report on the extent to which state government is faithfully carrying out the programs and whether the programs are achieving their desired result.

County Audits: The State Auditor conducts audits once every four years in counties that do not elect a county auditor.

Bond Registration

The State Auditor's Office is responsible for reviewing and registering general obligation bonds issued by political subdivisions in Missouri. This process ensures compliance with both state law and the conditions of the contracts under which the bonds were issued.

Review of Property Tax Rates

State law requires the Missouri State Auditor to annually check all taxing jurisdictions throughout Missouri as to their compliance with the tax limitation provisions of Missouri's Hancock Amendment. Our report identifies whether or not a taxing jurisdiction has met its constitutional and statutory obligation to set an overall tax rate at a level approved by voters and within the bounds of limits set by Missouri's Constitution and the State Legislature.

Fiscal Notes

The Missouri State Auditor's Office is responsible for preparing a fiscal note and fiscal note summary for each initiative and joint resolution referred to a vote of the people. The fiscal note and fiscal note summary shall state the measure's estimated cost or savings, if any, to state and local governmental entities.
